FOREWORD

The Government Schemes & Programmes plays a crucial role in facilitating socio-economic development, financial security, benefits to citizens etc. Thus their awareness is a must for any concerned citizen.

The Government Schemes in India can be classified into three broad categories, viz (i) Central Sector Scheme (Which are totally financed and implemented by Central Government), (ii) Centrally Sponsored Scheme (Which are funded jointly by both Central & State Government in some ratio) and (iii) State Scheme (Which are totally financed and implemented by State Government).

This “NEDFi Databank Journal” on “Government Schemes & Programmes”, comes in two volumes. The first volume was included some important Schemes & Programmes of different Ministries of India and the second volume is on various Schemes and Programmes of NE States. It was a difficult job assimilating, screening and analysing the information from various sources. Nevertheless, it is indeed a sincere attempt to provide the information at one single source. I thank all who have made this task possible.

We hope the information provided in this Journal will be useful to readers and stakeholders. We also look forward to feedback and suggestions for further improvement.
